Gluck Winner Over Riverside By 6-4 Score

Tail Enders Win 11 Inning Contest — Orr-Equinox Game Rained Out

In a 11 inning, hotly contested game Gluck downed Riverside yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 4. The game was hard fought from the start, and until it was all over it was anybody's game. Gluck has materially strengthened her team during the past week and this is largely responsible for her victory over Riverside yesterday. Gluck will clash with Orr next Saturday, while Riverside will play at Equinox.

Rain Prevents Game.

Rain broke up the game between Orr and Equinox on the latter's grounds yesterday afternoon in the first innings. A large crowd was out to see the game and there was much disappointment felt that it had to be called off.

Next Saturday afternoon, though, Orr will clash with Gluck on her own grounds. While Orr has greatly strengthened her team during the past two weeks, Gluck has also added some good men to her line-up and present indications are that the game will be a hard fought one.

"Dimple" Major will wear an Orr uniform next Saturday, and will be stationed on short. This is expected to add greatly to the interest of the game. No admission fee is charged and the club managers are anxious for the town fans to attend these games, assuring them that they will witness a real diamond treat.

Gothamites Figuring On Big Series

GIANTS BACK IN FAVOR OF DIAMOND FANS AS A RESULT OF RECENT PHENOMINAL SPURT

(By Associated Press.)

New York, June 3.—Although the major league baseball season is not half completed the fans of Greater New York are already figuring on witnessing at least one half of the World's Series of 1916 and possibly the entire conflict. With New York and Brooklyn teams fighting for the National League lead and the New York Americans within striking distance of first place in the American, it is hard to convince the average reader of the big city that one of the three will not be found safely perched at the top when the season closes early in October.

The remarkable dash of the New York Giants from last place to within a few points of the lead in the senior league, during which they won seventeen straight games, has restored the Giants to their former place in affections of the fans and confidence in their ability to play winning ball from this time on, is evident on all sides. Across the big bridge Brooklyn fans are just as certain that the Superbas will be able to maintain the pace that they have set from the beginning of the season.

Connie Mack, the leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, in a recent interview, picked the Yankees to win the American League pennant. This taken in conjunction with the brand of ball the reconstructed combination has displayed this spring, has caused the followers of the junior league in Greater New York to figure on the possibility of the Yankees appearing in the role of World's Series contenders next fall. Much will depend upon the result of the New York Americans first trip over the Western circuit. The Giants and Superbas have already passed this test in a highly satisfactory manner. If the Yankees can demonstrate that they are equally efficient on the road, their chance of holding place well to the fore in the long pennant race ahead will be considerably augmented.

There will be plenty of openings for new intercollegiate champions a year hence when the forty-second games of the I. C. A. A. A. are held. Graduation will take heavy toll among the winners and pace men who collected points for their colleges at Cambridge last week. Of the thirteen champions, seven will be graduated before the close of the month and eleven of the 17 who won or tied for second place will also pass from the undergraduate to the alumni class. Among the other point winners, three will be lost from the third positions; six in the fourth and three among the fifth place men.

Among the individual stars who will cease to compete for their colleges or universities are: Meredith and Kaufman of Pennsylvania; Smith of Michigan; Murray of Stanford; Oler of Yale; Potter, Grubb, Taylor and Hoffmire of Cornell; Webb and Baker of California; Brown, Penn. State and Bingham and Johnstone of Harvard.

A number of these athletes will not withdraw from competition, however. For the larger athletic clubs of the East are already in spirited bidding for their services. Unusual rivalry is evident among these clubs this season for with the Amateur Athletic Union championships to be held in Newark, N. J., early in September, special efforts are being made to win the championship trophy. Incidentally these games promise to be very keenly contested and the field really national in representation this year for both the city of Newark and A. A. U. are planning to subscribe to a fund to pay at least part of the expenses of the high-class teams from the Pacific Coast, South and Middle West.

With the best of the collegians and A. A. U. athletes competing several new World's records are not unlikely. Sprinters of the type of Drew, Smith, Moore, Toschner and Harders like Simpson, Kelly, Murray and House cannot appear upon a fast track without threatening existing figures. This list might be lengthened to include broad jumpers, distance runners, pole vaulters and other classes of entrants as the American athlete appears to have reached a high state of preparedness so far as record breaking performances are concerned.

New York Stock

Wall Street, June 3.—The week-end session denoted the concern of financial interests in the latest news from abroad. International charges were inclined to ease with concussions in Anglo-French and Canadian war loans. Speculation in certain specialties were renewed. General motors jumped sixty-seven points. Other motors made high records. Mark 2 closed irregular. Bonds were lower.

Preparations

New Orleans, June 3.—45,000 marched in the Mardi Gras parade here. This is the largest Mardi Gras birthday. And a holiday in Louisiana.

BLOW ON HEAD WITH BASEBALL BAT FATAL

Atlanta, Ga., June 3.—From a blow on the head with a baseball bat, while playing in a game in Lawrenceville last Tuesday, Roy Green, aged 21 years, and one of the best known young men of that place, died in the Grady hospital here today. Paul Kelly, a friend and companion of Green, threw the bat, unconscious of the direction it was taking toward Green. The latter's skull was crushed and he was brought to Atlanta for treatment. The throwing of the bat was accidental. Mr. Green was married a month ago to Miss Steele Jones, of Lawrenceville.

Think It Over

You spend good money to invite people to your place of business. Why invite them out with an uncomfortable atmosphere?

Making a customer comfortable also makes him cheerful and puts him in a buying mood. Make Electric Fans a part of your store equipment, and increase business.

Fans are inexpensive and the current costs but little, so provide your own place with the same comforts the other man is expected to provide for you.

KEEPING MONEY AT HOME

Keeping Money at Home

In paying out money for anything, our first question is: "Am I getting value received?"

For a quarter of a century, The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company has been giving the people of South Carolina the very Highest Quality of Life Insurance in return for the premium paid. Our policyholders have attested their satisfaction in such substantial ways that the Company's business in this State has increased year by year, until on January 1st, 1916 it amounted to over $18,000,000.00.

But that is not all. In addition to the large sums paid policyholders last year, and the liberal loans which are always available on policies, the Company has loaned in the last three or four years a very considerable amount on South Carolina farms. In 1912, '13, '14 and '15 the amount paid out and invested in South Carolina was $903,465.02 in excess of the total premiums collected. The company's total South Carolina investments on December 31st, 1915, amounted, as will be noticed, to $2,533,659.55. THAT MEANS KEEPING YOUR MONEY AT HOME AND AT THE SAME TIME GETTING VALUE RECEIVED.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES THEY SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES

Paid S. C. Policyholders	1915	1912-13-14-15
Policy Claims, Dividends and Cash Values.....	$335,244.35	$1,132,488.75
